

TENTH YEAR.

STRUCK BY A BOMB

An Anarchist Hurling It Into the Chamber of Deputies.

WOUNDING THREE MEMBERS

One American and Twenty French Persons Injured—The Police Have Made Thirty Arrests of Suspects.

PARIS, Dec. 9.—A bomb was thrown in the chamber of deputies this afternoon, happily without fatal results. The usual number of members present, when no matter of great importance is to be considered, were in their seats and the business of the house was proceeding quietly. The galleries contained a number of visitors, including a number of ladies who watched the proceedings with little interest. In the gallery above the benches, occupied by the members of the right, were a number of strangers, none of whom had attracted any attention, when they entered the gallery and had seats assigned to them. Within the course of the business of the house, the election of M. Merlan came up for discussion. M. Merlan had just descended from the tribune and had just descended to resume his seat when a man, in the gallery above mentioned, threw a bomb towards the floor of the house. The bomb must have had a time fuse attached to it, for as it passed the head of Professor Lemaire, deputy for Hainaut, it exploded with a terrific report. A dense cloud of smoke and dust ascended, shutting out from view for a time those sitting in the body of the house.

American Lady Wounded.
For a single instant the house was perfectly quiet and then the members and others, realizing what had occurred, there was the wildest excitement. The officers detailed to guard the chamber were the first to regain their seats. They at once shut the great doors leading to the chamber to prevent the escape of the bomb-thrower. The people in the galleries fled in disorder, fearing that other bombs would be thrown. They were in a state of bordering on frenzy, and almost fell over each other in their wild but futile haste to get out of the building. One lady, who it was subsequently learned was an American, had been hit on the forehead by a piece of the casing of the bomb, and she fled with blood streaming over her face.

Three Deputies Injured.
On the floor of the house the excitement was as great as that in the galleries. Many of the members rushed for the exits, fearing every moment to hear another explosion. M. Dupuy, the president of the chamber, was apparently the coolest man in the chamber. Two ladies beside the American in the lower gallery were injured. A man sitting beside the bomb-thrower was also wounded. The deputies wounded were Prof. Abbe Lemaire, Count Paul Henri Lanjuinais and M. Lefebvre. The excitement among the members, who thought it was, did not last long. The wounded were taken to committee rooms and medical assistance was hastily summoned to attend them. While this was being done some of the reporters picked from the floor of the house bits of metal and a number of horse shoe nails that had evidently furnished part of the contents of the bomb.

Members Held Prisoners.
As soon as the smoke and dust had cleared away the members resumed their seats and business proceeded. M. Montfort ascended the tribune and an excitedly steady voice took up the discussion of the question before the house as though nothing out of the ordinary had occurred. After the sitting was ended the members of the chamber, journalists and visitors gathered in the lobby and excitedly discussed the outrage. It was impossible for them to leave the building as, owing to orders from the police, nobody was allowed egress until 6:30 and even then they were not permitted to leave until they gave satisfactory proof of their identity. When M. Dupuy, president of the chamber, descended from the chair and crossed the Salle de la Paix he was given an ovation owing to his unimpaired serenity when the bomb burst.

Law Must Be Enforced.
In his speech in the chamber after the explosion this afternoon, Premier Casimir Perier closed with the words: "Society has laws with which to defend itself against such crimes as the one just committed and we shall not hesitate to use them to protect our institutions." When the chamber rose at 5 o'clock this official report of the explosion and what followed was read aloud in the lobby. "The moment Deputy Mirman descended from the speaker's tribune the explosion occurred. Trembling with emotion the president of the chamber said: 'Such outrages cannot disturb the chamber. We shall continue our labors and after we exhaust the order of the day, the chambers of this country will do their duty in regard to the outrage.' This statement was generally applauded."

Socialist Charges With the Crime.
The members talked excitedly of the explosion as they lingered after the adjournment in the lobby and corridors. The socialists, apparently, were eager to clear themselves of all reproach. Jules Guesde, leader of the extreme socialist group, gesticulated wildly at half a dozen men who were shouting accusations at him. The conservative deputy Gaudin passed Guesde, rushed at him and exclaimed: "This is your fault. If you had made use of any common sense never would have happened." After the chamber adjourned a small army of physicians and nurses arrived. They took possession of the committee rooms and specially transformed them into hospitals where the wounded and injured were examined for scraps of iron and were then bandaged so that they might be removed safely to their homes. M. Lemaire, professor general, and M. Gerin, prefect of police, moved from room to room to learn how many had been injured and later were in the corridors and the chamber talking and the deputy who remained behind after the adjournment to discuss the explosion.

Names of the Wounded.
The names of the deputies who had been wounded were given out very slowly, consequently many false reports got abroad and scores of friends of deputies crowded into the Palais Bourbon to make inquiries. At 7 o'clock this list, in addition to the small one already given, was obtained: Comte de Montlucet, catholic-conservative for the Nord, several cuts, some serious; Henry Borel, republican for the Var, and captain in the last war, slightly bruised; George Coubey, republican for Lot, several cuts and bruises; M. Le Foulon, M. de Chomere de Pradine, Baron Roux, Charles Hall and Alexandre Dumpe, a lawyer, and six other persons received slight injuries.

A Roumanian, colonel was hit in the head by a ragged piece of metal and fell unconscious and bleeding to the floor. The physicians there pronounced his injuries serious, but probably not fatal. The police are said to have made thirty arrests before 7 o'clock.

At midnight it was announced officially that forty-eight persons were wounded by the explosion.

The judicial inquiry will be secret.

Anarchist sympathizers loudly applauded the outrage as a reply to the rejection of the amnesty proposal.

CHILIAN CLAIMS

Damage Wanted in the Steamer Itaca Case.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The Chilean government has filed with the Chilean claims commission a claim for damages in the well-known Itaca case. The South American Steamship company officials in Valparaiso, is the claimant and wants $100,000 damages. This is the only claim presented by the Chilean government. The committee has overruled by a vote of 2 to 1 the demurrer of the Chilean government to the claim of the North and South American Construction company. This was a contract to construct a railroad 600 miles long from Santiago into the mining districts for which the company was to receive $17,000,000 in gold. The claim is for $5,000,000. The demurrer of the Chilean government to the claim of Charles G. Wilson of Iquique for damages during the war, was unanimously sustained on the ground that Wilson was not a citizen of the United States.

BIG LUMBER CUT.

Alpena Will Carry Over 50,000,000 Feet This Season.

ALPENA, Dec. 9.—Shipments of lumber and cedar from this port for the season just closed were about one-third less than last year, but the prospects for next season are good. There is at least 50,000,000 feet of lumber on the docks, the largest stock ever carried over. All the mills in operation now have a full stock of logs in sight for next season's cut. About 35,000,000 of Canadian logs will be brought to this port in 1904, being 6,000,000 feet more than this year. Operations in cedar are being carried forward extensively, the new Alpena & Northern railroad opening up a new section, and much more cedar will be shipped from here next season than in any previous year. During the past season 475 vessels reported at the custom house, carrying lumber, 137,462,000; shingles, 27,841,000; lath, 6,816,000; railroad ties, 549,500; staves, 2,641,000; telegraph poles, 15,380.

Smugglers Pleaded Guilty.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Dec. 9.—In the United States district court Nathan Blum and W. B. Jackling have entered a plea of guilty to smuggling Chinese into this country by means of fraudulent certificates. Twenty other defendants indicted pleaded not guilty, and trial was set for December 12. The grand jury has returned three more indictments for opium smuggling, one of them against Thomas Jordan, ex-customs inspector. It is expected that Blum's testimony will be highly sensational.

On Trail of a Murderer.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 9.—Word was received at headquarters this morning that John Huff, the man who brutally murdered his wife in Cleveland on Thursday last, was seen in this city last night at one of the cheap Sixth street lodging houses. Detectives were detailed on the case and visited all the places and a man answering Huff's description was traced from place to place, but he managed to keep out of their clutches.

6,000 Miners Go to Work Monday.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 9.—Every thing appears to be very quiet here and along the line of the Wyoming division of the Lehigh Valley railroad today. Business of the road is being dispatched with the same degree of promptness which characterized before the strike began. No less than fifteen of the collieries will resume work on Monday next, which will give employment to at least 6,000 miners, who have been idle since the strike began.

Opening New Oil Fields.

SCHUYLER, Pa., Dec. 9.—The Standard Oil company is about to develop the new oil fields in Schuylersburg and Bradford counties. It has leased a strip extending from Bradford to Brooklyn, where a New York syndicate is erecting derricks. This will include oil-bearing lands and a man answering Huff's description was traced from place to place, but he managed to keep out of their clutches.

Still Owns Attention.

INDEPENDENCE, Iowa, Dec. 9.—It is rumored tonight that C. W. Williams has sold his entire interests to R. Campbell. This includes the Gageley hotel, opera house, Rosh Park tract, electric street railway, residences and the American Trotter. The track may be leased by Mr. Williams and the meetings conducted as usual next year. Williams still owns Allerton and other good stock.

Prisoners Break Jail.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 9.—Seven prisoners escaped from the county jail this morning at 2 o'clock. Among them was a murderer and a noted car thief. They cut their way through a wall of brick and then through a foot of brick wall.

Colliery to Resume.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 9.—The Pine Ridge colliery, employing 400 men, resumed today.

Telegrams Condensed.

Governor Waite of Colorado may be impeached for his action in the penitentiary matter.

W. L. Boies of Portland, Oregon, was indicted yesterday for Chinese smuggling.

St. Nicholas hotel at Winnipeg was burned yesterday; loss, $15,000.

The Plains, Texas, national bank was robbed last night of $9,000.

L. B. Meyer, an United States minister to Guatemala, is dead.

NEW BANK NOTES

Representative Walker's Scheme for an Independent Currency

BANKS ASSUME REDEMPTION

It Would Also Force Them to Reorganize and Retain the Government from Responsibility.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Representative Walker, republican, Massachusetts, has prepared a plan which has been sent to the house committee on banking and currency, looking to the creation of an independent bank currency to replace all government paper issues. The details of this plan are as follows:

1. The United States government to be completely relieved of any responsibility for the currency redemption of any circulating government or bank currency note whatever, and thereby relieved of all expense and risk of maintaining any coin redemption fund or coin measure of value, risk and expense of both to be devolved upon the banks by the operation of the bill. The bill to be so drawn as to cause each and every bank to assume proportionately the currency redemption and practical destruction of the legal tender note in its present form. The banks to accept a new greenback in place of the present one and be responsible only for its current redemption, and the United States government to be responsible for its final redemption.

2. The United States government, in the interest of the safety of banks, in order to protect the people from loss to exercise, as now, and extend its thorough supervision over all banks.

3. The banking bill to be so drawn as to cause each and every bank to assume proportionately the currency redemption and practical destruction of all treasury notes.

4. The banking bill to be so drawn as to cause each and every bank to assume proportionately the currency redemption and practical destruction of the excess of silver certificates and to cause silver dollars to an equal amount to be covered into the treasury as bullion, but to leave in circulation as now, every coined dollar we now have that the people can be induced to use.

5. To provide for the absolute safety of every circulating note.

6. Circulating notes shall be free of cost except for printing and the cost of the volume of the amount needed.

7. The volume of circulating notes to be sufficiently elastic to expand to meet the extreme demands of the people and contract automatically so as never to exceed in volume the amount needed.

8. Circulating current notes to be so issued as not to increase the interest paid on loans capital, as in the case under existing law.

9. They shall be uniform.

10. They shall be so issued and raised as to be forced back to the bank issuing them and where most needed.

11. The United States government shall accept promptly of customers of coin and issue certificates of deposit thereon, as now.

12. The United States government, on special occasions, to provide temporary safeguards to deposits to depositors, in order to prevent the paralysis of the currency.

13. All existing banks may reorganize immediately, or at the expiration of their charters, under the act.

FRIGHTENED TO DEATH.

Congressman Whitney's Child Killed by a Dream.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Congressman Justin R. Whitney had been home but a short time last night from the ways and means committee meeting when his young daughter, a bright little one, and the baby of his nine children, awoke with screams. She had dreamed of flying monsters, which she declared with piteous cries were trying to bite her.

Mrs. Whitney attempted to quiet her, but at 1 o'clock the child fell into convulsions. The efforts of physicians for her relief were unavailing and at 10 o'clock today Catherine died. The little girl was playing about out of doors yesterday as usual, and the suddenness of the bereavement has prostrated the family.

That a child should be frightened by dreams into fatal convulsions is considered a remarkable case. The doctors say that it was congestion of the brain.

GRAND ARMY TO ACT.

Soldiers Holding Illegal Pensions, if Any, to Be Reported.

BOSTON, Dec. 9.—The following official circular has been issued by Commander in Chief Adams of the Grand Army of the Republic:

HEADQUARTERS GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, LYNN, MASS., Dec. 4, 1903.

Circular No. 2.—Whereas The president of the United States of the message to congress has stated that thousands of neighborhoods have their well-known fraudulent pensioners, and as the mission of the Grand Army of the Republic is to encourage honor and purity in public affairs, I therefore call the attention of the members of our order to the statement of the president, and urge them to report to the honor committee of pensions, Washington, D. C., any person to be in receipt of a pension not justly entitled to the same under the law, and to forward duplicate of said report to these headquarters at once.

That the cases of frauds be proven not implied. The commander in chief is bound to believe that the statement is broader than the facts can substantiate. The commander in chief feels the support of the Grand Army of the Republic is due to those who attempt in the line of duty to rectify those wrongs, as sure that the union veterans are as anxious to guard the treasury of the nation in time of peace as they were to defend it in time of war.

JOHN G. R. ADAMS, Commander in Chief.

Official—JAMES F. MURPHY, Adjutant General.

Negotiating for the Cause.

DENVER, Mich., Dec. 9.—Rudolph Aronson, formerly manager of the Casino theatre, New York, and who is now managing the Casino theatre in Denver, is negotiating with the stockholders of the Casino in the city.

Strikers Return to Work.

ASHLAND, Ky., Dec. 9.—The Norton iron works have accepted the proposition of their striking employees and 600 of the latter have returned to work.

the control of that theatre. In case Mr. Aronson regains the control of the theatre he will keep his office on the board, with Lillian Russell as the principal attraction.

WILSON BILL, THE CAUSE.

Iron and Steel Depressed and Prices Lowered.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9.—The American Manufacturers, reviewing the movements in iron and steel during the past week, says: Our reports from various sections of the country show no improvement in iron or steel, but rather a falling off in demand. A further depression in prices. The supply due to increased tariff changes. Business generally is of small proportions. In crude iron very few transactions have been closed, while stocks are sufficient for any probable demand, less effort has been made to unload than for some weeks past. The sheet, plate and structural iron-makers are doing a very small amount of business, but all hope for a genuine improvement early in the new year. The steel rail situation has not improved, but an adjustment is gradually taking place.

In the merchant bar mills, business is very light. The rail trade is depressed, competition still prevailing. Michigan syndicate to take possession of a large tract of timber, land recently surveyed in Shoshone county. The survey includes 80,000 acres of the finest timber land in the United States and was made at the instance of the syndicate and after a representative of the Michigan sawmill men was here a short time ago who stated that the timber supply was getting short in Michigan and a number of large mills would have to be moved. The plan is to secure more to settle on land as an immediate relief and afterwards set out to the syndicate by which scheme they hope to steal valuable timber for private gain. Experts say the syndicate can well afford to pay $15,000 per section for these lands.

MICHIGAN SCHEME.

How Lumbermen Will Secure Idaho Timber Land.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Dec. 9.—State officials have been made cognizant of preparations for the part of a Michigan syndicate to take possession of a large tract of timber, land recently surveyed in Shoshone county. The survey includes 80,000 acres of the finest timber land in the United States and was made at the instance of the syndicate and after a representative of the Michigan sawmill men was here a short time ago who stated that the timber supply was getting short in Michigan and a number of large mills would have to be moved.

IN A WOMAN'S TOLLA.

Female Pension Agent Makes Charges Against Muskegon Men.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Dec. 9.—Ex-Pension Detective Mrs. Spencer Kelly has sprung a sensation here in an affidavit in which she charges that Jacob Jacobson, chairman of the board of pharmacists, and Dr. Cook came to her some time last spring and suggested that she act as pension inspector, saying that they would forward charges against certain claims to Washington, recommend her as a pension inspector, and that she was insured for her trouble.

When seen this morning, Mrs. Jensen denied the charges in full. He said Mrs. Kelly came to his store last summer and wanted him to look over certain pensioners' names and see if they were all right, that he ordered her out of the store, and that she had done all in her power to injure him.

Dr. Cook also denied the charge, but admitted that he told her Senator C. L. Brundage, who is drawing a pension, never was in active battle. The city is in a state of excitement, and a police guard has been stationed on her premises. The government has informally intimated to the American minister that it is unable to repress any disorder and wishes no troops to be landed.

The Brute Behind the Throne.
The Hawaiian Star sets forth its motive in attacking ex-Marshall Wilson in the following language: "Charles B. Wilson, thief and parasite, was the political light of the queen. In spite of his meagre intellect and the vice that festered in him, he had more to say about the conduct of public affairs than had the cabinet itself. He was a dull brute power behind the throne. Today he is used to his ex-hyal mistress, the foremost champion of the old order, and tomorrow, if some power should place Liliuokalani in power again, he would attempt to dictate as of old to the christian and civilized community of these afflicted islands. It is a fair question to ask before the world such a base sinister as Wilson upon its coat of arms—not to speak of others that have been pictured in these columns—was not righteously abolished and could be decently removed."

Supreme Court Decisions.

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 9.—The Supreme court has adjourned to Tuesday, December 12. The following opinions were handed down:
